

OIH NEWS

Serving Orphans in their Hopelessness

A SEASON OF THANKSGIVING AND GRATITUDE

BOMBARDOPOLIS, Haiti (OIH) — Recently OIH has received several T-shirts donated by Karen, one of our sponsors from Indiana. The T-Shirts promote the New York Red Wing Hockey, an established AAU program for girls in grades 3-11 and boys in grades 3-7. This program is grounded in the fundamentals and focuses on developing the talents of each and every player. Although Hockey is not a typical game for Haitian kids, however, Jean F. Florvilus, President of OIH, during a recent mission trip to Bombardopolis, Haiti to deliver the T-Shirts, was able to inform these kids about the sport and explain how they players play the game. 43 T-Shirts were distributed.

Praise the Lord All my soul, Let all that I have bless, His only (Ps. 103:1). These kids feel proud to wear a New York T-Shirt. In this season of thanksgiving, OIH kids are expressing in this picture a spirit of gratitude toward God for all sponsors and donors who have contributed to OIH. The children are thankful to each and everyone who have sent Love Parcels and letters to them. This boy, Jean-Bernard, to the left took off his school uniform after school to wear the Red Wing Jersey, his dream is that one day he would get the opportunity to come to New York to watch a Hockey game. These kids are so thankful for those T-shirts and they say, “Merci Beaucoup” a term in french which means “Thank you very much” to all those who are thinking of them during this season of thanksgiving and Christmas. In this time of year, OIH board of directors would like to join the orphans and children of Bombardopolis, Haiti to wish you and your family

JOYEUX NOEL / MERRY CHRISTMAS

